

The Appalachian Trail Conservancy is offering a series of free online trainings in the form of a newly adapted online Volunteer Leadership Meeting that will begin with an “Intro to Cooperative Management” on Thursday, September 24.

While this session may be of particular interest to club board members, it also serves as a great foundation and requisite for future sessions provided within the Volunteer Leadership Academy (VLA).

Courses centered around Cooperative Management and Engaging New People are available to volunteers, as well as the possibility to participate in an Organizational Leadership cohort that seeks to find solutions to challenges centered around operational management.

For more information on these opportunities please visit our Volunteer Leadership Academy webpage at appalachiantrail.org/VLA
